MUNCIE. Ind., November 20.—Because of the rapidly increasing prices of foods that make up a typical Thanksgiving dinner, a movement is afoot among Muncle housewives to make Thanksgiving this year both "turkeyless" and "eggless" and to cut out of the menu any other article that may be unreasonably high. To date there has been no great inverse in the there has been no great increase in the prices of chickens and ducks and prices of chickens and ducks and these are likely to be the staple dishes in Mun-cie households that day.
